NEW MEDICINE!
THE GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE AGE!!!

NO MORE COD-LIVER OIL, SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSERADISH OF GRIMAULT and Co., Apothecaries and chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris. According to the certificates of the physicians of the Paris Hospitals, detailed in the prospectus, and with the approbation of several Academies, this Syrup is employed with the greatest success in place of Cod-liver Oil, to which it is really superior. It cures diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atony, and loss of appetite. It regenerates the constitution by purifying the blood, and is, in a word the most powerful depurative known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels like the iodide of potassium and the iodide of iron, and is administered with the greatest efficacy to young children subject to humours or obstruction of the glands. Dr. CAZENAVE of Saint Louis hospital, Paris, recommends it particularly in cutaneous diseases conjoinly with the pills which bear his name.

DIOSPHATE OF IRON, DE LERAS, apothecary to the doctor of science, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris.—This new ferruginous medicine contains the elements of the bones and blood, and iron in liquid state. From observations made in the hospitals, and detailed in the prospectus, it is superior to ferruginous pills, lactate of iron syrup reduced by hydrogen, pills and syrup of the iodide of iron, and cures rapidly, stomach complaints, painful digestion, poverty of the blood, loss of strength and appetite, and the diseases incidental to females. It is the best adjunct to Cod-Liver Oil, and the best preserver of health in tropical climates.

ELIXIR OF PEPSINE prepared by GRIMAULT & Co., chemists, 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris, according to the formula of Dr. Corvisart, knight of the Legion of Honour, Physician to H. M. the Emperor of the French. PEPSINE is pepsine itself, or rather the digestive principle purified, which digests food in the stomach. When from various causes the supply of the digestive fluid is too small, inevitable consequences are bad digestion, gastritis, gastralgia, inflammation of the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels, heartburn, anomia, loss of strength, and in fine, a general derangement. The elixir of Pepsine, which is sanctioned by the approbation of the Paris Academy of Medicine speedily cures all such diseases, & prevents vomiting during pregnancy.

IODINE OIL OF L. PERSONNE.
APPROVED BY THE IMPERIAL ACADEMY OF MEDICINE, PARIS.

ACCORDING to the Official report adopted by the Academy, it is a fact, that this Oil, which is in every respect similar to sweet Almond Oil, is a drug of the highest value, and in many respects preferable to COD LIVER OIL. All the SCROFULOUS AND STRUMOUS DISEASES, the enlargements and suppurations of Glands, Buboes, Tumors, Abscesses, Rickets, Wasting of the Pulmonary Tubercles, and several Cutaneous Diseases, as Lupus, Scrofulous Tubercles, are equally benefited by it.

M. RICORD, the well known Surgeon to the Hospital du Midi, one of the Official reporters, says, in all curable cases, the cure, or at least some amelioration, has been much quicker by this Oil, than by Cod Liver Oil, and the doses much smaller.

HONGKONG, JUNE 24, 1865.

THE subject of Missionary labors in China is a delicate one to touch upon. There is a growing conviction amongst foreigners that Christianity is not likely to be introduced amongst the Chinese by the present means employed, in such a form as to bring forth any good fruit. That some good would result from the attempt if properly made, even though it failed, we cannot allow ourselves to doubt. We nevertheless have little confidence in the success of, or even in the good likely to ensue from, the endeavours of most of the Missionary societies now in the field.

There is one point on which we are perfectly and thoroughly convinced; and that is—before a Minister of the gospel should be allowed to venture on the field of converting the Chinese, he should acquire a classical acquaintance with their language, and the capacity to speak it fluently.

The Chinese language is so difficult to acquire, that it may be pronounced impossible to attain perfection in it—we mean amongst the Chinese themselves. Instead of learning the dead and living languages as classical students in Europe do, the Chinese youth confine their research to their own language and their proficiency in it may be almost said to regulate their status in society.

But there is something beyond this. The European student learns Latin and Greek to obtain rank as a scholar at an university, after which the acquirement becomes merely an accomplishment.

With the Chinese student the inducement is vastly intensified. China has no oligarchy whatever. The literary examinations are State affairs, and the whole of the Offices of the Empire, have to be filled from the ranks of the successful.

Under such circumstances, the classical knowledge of the Chinese language is in China, the test of knowledge, the gauge of intelligence, the proof of learning and research.

We are of opinion that the Chinese as a people, are very liberal on theological subjects, and in that respect certainly China presents a fine field for the Christian Missionary. But then it cannot be doubted that the Chinese combine ethics and theology in such a manner as to make them one and the same.

Neither can it be doubted that the Chinese deem all such subjects to be of a highly literary nature, and therefore by no means to be lectured upon except by those whose classical attainments are of the first order.

Now as those classical attainments are to be tested only by an intimate knowledge of the Chinese language, and as the Chinese are taught from their cradles to believe, and really do believe, that all other nations but themselves are barbarous;—we arrive at the issue of our argument. What possible chance can a foreign missionary have of converting the Chinese to Christianity by preaching to them in illiterate language? We submit he does far more harm than good, because he brings Christianity into contempt.

We say contempt—firstly, because not being a Chinese scholar he cannot speak the language classically, and is therefore deemed by his hearers an illiterate person who has no right to profess a knowledge of ethics and theology—secondly, because some of the inspired truths which he communicates, being incomprehensible from the imperfect way in which they are explained, become both ludicrous and impious—and thirdly, because he is a barbarian—a red-haired devil, as the English are called—a flowery flag-devil as the Americans are called—and so forth.

What the Missionaries in China may think of these opinions we can of course easily surmise. We have frustrated our own intention if we have evinced disrespect to Christianity, or if we have thrown any levity into a subject on which we repeatedly cogitate, and regarding which we hold strong opinions.

Reviewing the mode pursued by the various sects of Christian Missionaries in China, it will be found that the above remarks are capable of different applications. We divide the Christian Missionary societies into three. One, the Roman Catholic—another the English and American, who appear to be identical—and the other the German.

As for the Roman Catholic propagandism—it partakes of all the political elements of Popery in its worst form, and but for the power potential of Louis Napoleon, would we think have been driven out of the country. It now travels through the Empire with the crozier in one hand, and a sword in the other. The aggression committed by Louis Napoleon in its name, will not bear the daylight. They are best concealed, for they disgrace Christianity.

We freely bear testimony to the devotion, the zeal, and the sincerity of the Roman Catholic Clergy, and we must do them the justice to say that we never heard of them sending highly or falsely colored reports to Europe with the unworthy object of extracting money out of the pockets of the incredulous faithful.

But we feel bound to record our conviction that in their attempts at propagandism they have signally failed. They have been in the country for centuries—by their knowledge and astuteness they earned a footing and a strong status—they do not seem to have allowed any opportunity to escape them, and they have at last obtained legislation for their faith and creed. Where is the result? Surely had their system been adapted to the purpose intended, some proportion of the Chinese Empire would ere this have been Christianised! We cannot refer to Macao, a purely Roman Catholic place, without laying ourselves open to the abuse of that leader of the blind, the "Tassi-yan-kuo." The Priests lead austere lives, and do greatly devote themselves to deeds of charity and benevolence—so much so, that they are pretty generally looked upon as good Samaritans. Yet we ask, where is the fruit of their propagandism?

As for the English and American Missionary societies, we see but one redeeming feature, and that is the valuable services of the medical portion of it. We do conscientiously believe that all these societies combined never produced a sincere reliable convert. There may have been six, or ten, or twelve Chinese made useful members of society, but not one of them earned such respect and reverence from his countrymen, as to enable him to propagate with success the faith he had embraced. On the contrary, the converts of these societies, educated intelligent and respectable as they appear, are not respected by any means by their countrymen. They feel that they are in a degraded position and cling all they can to the institutions of their country, however objectionable these institutions may be. For instance—the very best specimen of the class we have alluded to—a man who is deservedly held in high estimation by foreig

PENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF PASSAGE MONEY.

IN the year 1857 the Directors made a considerable reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861.

In that year, owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reluctantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Coal and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undernoted scale, which will take effect from and after the 1st June next, viz:—

From Hongkong to:

Suez	$160
Malta	510
Marseilles	530
Gibraltar	530
Southampton	550

Reserved Rates for Single Persons.

Suez	$929
Malta	1,020
Marseilles	1,060
Gibraltar	1,060
Southampton	1,100

Reserved Rates for Married Couples.

Suez	$1,160
Malta	1,260
Gibraltar	1,348
Marseilles	1,348
Southampton	1,388

The charges for Children are in proportion to the above.

The above rates are exclusive of the amount payable to the Egyptian Transit Administration for conveyance of Passengers through Egypt, viz:—

For First-class Passengers, $32

Children above three and under ten years, half-fare.

By Order of the Managing Directors,

THOS. SUTHERLAND,
Superintendent.

Hongkong, 30th May, 1864.
